The 1952

Mercedian

Saint Agnes, Our Patroness

Our Lady of Mercy

Dedication

To Our Lady of Mercy, we of Mount Saint Agnes College dedicate our first yearbook. Under this title we have claimed the mighty powers of Mary's intercession as well as the tenderness of her mercy. The invoked patroness of our studies, she has been our inspiration and our success. At social functions she has been our most honored guest. Therefore, it is only fitting and just that we attribute our initial success in this field of endeavor to Mary, Our Lady of Mercy.

JOANA ELIZABETH BERGER

Bachelor of Arts

English

"Jo," with her blonde hair and Dresden complexion, favorable accompaniments to her dynamic personality, has won many friends at the Mount. An active participant in Mount Thespian productions, she has shown unusual dramatic ability in character roles. The student body, aware of her athletic prowess and capabilities as a manager, have followed her lead in the Athletic Association. As President of the Senior Class, Co-editor of Spheres, and Sno-Queen of 1952, "Jo" has given a guarantee that she will transform her ideals from dreams to realities.

MARY CATHERINE BYRNES

Bachelor of Science

Nursing

With a smile in her voice and a twinkle in her eye, Mary Catherine stole into the midst of the Class of '52 and within two years has become the understanding friend of her classmates. In her studies she is unusually attentive and appreciative, always seeking the higher values in life. Rich in experience acquired in nurses' training, Mary K. is always ready and willing to share those valuable experiences with others, that they too may face their problems with poise and confidence.

ANGELINA MARY CASELLA

Bachelor of Arts

Social Science

Black curly hair and warm brown eyes mark the calm serenity of this pert little senior. Adept at staying in the background, "Angie" is likely to pass unnoticed, but those who have worked with her realize her willingness and eagerness to co-operate at all times. She has given generously of her time and energy to manage such things as "date bureaus," bulletin boards and record dances. On those who have had the privilege of knowing her intimately, her quiet unassuming way will leave a deep and lasting impression.

MARIA ANTONIA GAHETE

Baelielor of Seience

Biology

Flashing dark eyes, and the ability to use them, are two of Maria's most envied possessions. In spite of her diminutive stature, which is far exceeded by her self-confidence and subtleness of manner, she reveals sophistication and dignity in both her co-curricular and social endeavors. Liturgy, Philosophy, and Science Clubs have claimed Maria as a member. Because of her artistic temperament, which sometimes impedes her in the laboratory, Maria will always be able to appreciate the beauty of God's work in nature.

ANN LEE GILBERT

Baelielor of Seience

Medieal Technology

Ann Lee, because of her even disposition which never allows her to worry, is the envy of many of the Class of '52. To be able to analyze a laboratory technique, as she does, in the face of failure, calmly, quietly and methodically, will make her a valuable asset to any laboratory. Characteristics, acquired during her interneship, will be invaluable to her whether she continues her career as a medical technologist or adopts the duties of a home-maker.

ELIZABETH MARY HAWKINS

Baehelor of Seienee

Medical Teelinology

Betty possesses an invaluable trait—a pleasing disposition which is accompanied by a sincerity and an earnestness, characteristic of all her actions. As a member of the Glee Club, her efforts have, in the past, been fruitful in insuring the success of numerous concerts. A potential medical technologist, and an ardent supporter of the Science Club, she is always most eager to learn the latest developments in the field of medicine. Betty's untiring zeal is bound to reward her with the skill demanded by so challenging a career.

ANGELA J. KELLY

Bachelor of Arts

Education

Angela, the essence of joy and generosity, hides beneath her outward dignity, a sterling personality, which radiates on all who have association with her. Precise and interesting expression typifies her writing for the Mount Reflector and Spheres. Then too, her talents as an actress have aided the success of numerous Mount productions. As President of the Student Government Organization, "Angie" has been a stalwart leader and a striking example of a Catholic College woman, evincing an influence which will continue to persuade even after College days.

LIDA MARY KUEBEL

Bachelor of Science

Nursing

Lida, conservative and conscientious, is an efficient and accurate worker. Although a member of the Class of '52 for only two years, her capabilities were quickly recognized by her class-mates who elected her Secretary-Treasurer of the class and President of the Science Club in quick succession. Lida, with a flare for the occasional argument, gives promise of defending well the high ideals of the Catholic nurse when she leaves College with the Bachelor of Science degree and enters once again the field of nursing.

MARY ELIZABETH LOCHTE

Bachelor of Science

Medical Technology

This amiable little lady, distinguished during her Freshman and Sophomore years for athletic accomplishments, has since become a loyal member of the Science Club. Despite serious attention to study and her ability to exclaim, "Oh, those beautiful veins," Mary conveys to her associates an unusual amount of spontaneous wit. Why she prides herself on being a faithful member of the "Man-hunter's Club" is due to her undivided affection for the "Lab" at Mercy Hospital where her dependability will insure for her a unique place in the ranks of Medical Technologists.

MARY ELEANOR MACATEE

Bachelor of Arts

Education

"Mac," so-ealled by close friends, is known for her vivacious personality. However, her associates recognize in her a seriousness of purpose which will insure her success. "Mae's" interests have led her to the Science, Philosophy, Humanities and Education Clubs as well as to active participation in the Athletic Association. As a Junior, she was the efficient secretary of the Student Government Organization. Her cheerful disposition and spontaneous wit will endear her to her students when she takes her place in the Teaching profession.

ANN MARY MeNAMARA

Bachelor of Arts

Social Science

Beneath her air of Senior dignity, Ann hides the charm of a true Virginia belle. In school activities she has been most eo-operative. As secretary of the Liturgy Club she has efficiently recorded the commission's activities. For two years, as able President of the Mount Thespians, she has exhibited on many oceasions her unusual dramatic ability. In athleties her interests have been field hockey and basketball. The spirit of good sportsmanship and general efficiency gained from these various activities, are ample indications of her successful future.

PAT MOORE

Bachelor of Science

Medical Technology

Pat, a sedate and reserved Senior, has shown in her work, efficiency and accuracy, two qualities which are most necessary in a successful medical technologist. As a student at Mount Saint Agnes College, she has passed most quietly and unobtrusively through the halls and has participated in Glee Club and Science Club activities. Always gracious and smiling, Pat has also acquired that professional attitude that is invaluable and will be such an asset to her in her laboratory career.

DOLORES ROSS

Bachelor of Arts

Education

Always poised and self-possessed, Dolores is capable of meeting diverse situations. Her active participation in the International Relations Club conferences has given her an assurance most necessary in a Catholic College graduate. On the stage with the Mount Thespians, Dolores has displayed her dramatic ability in numerous character parts. As Co-editor of Spheres and President of the Humanities Club, she has completed a well-rounded education which should enable her to impart with little difficulty Christian ideals and truth in the teaching profession.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

As we girls of the class of 1952 leave Mount Saint Agnes College, we hold in fond memory our happy college days, days enriched with people, places and events, scholastic achievements, social endeavors and spiritual successes.

Let us turn to page one of our memory book and see ourselves, back in 1948, as Freshmen at the Mount. Our "Big Sisters," the Sophomores, aided by the orientation, initiation, and investiture programs, helped us become a definite part of the student body. The formality of the Midshipman Dance and the informality of the Athletic Association Harvest Dance have never ceased to surprise and delight us. Several of our classmates helped to make Years Ago, the major dramatic production of that year, a success. In May, the Freshman-Senior picnic was held in the gym and that never-to-be-forgotten basketball game, referced by our own Dr. Zintl, was played. Bishop Sheen addressed us at graduation, thus bringing to a close our first year at the Mount.

Turning pages, we come to our Sophomore year. As "witches," during initiation week, we made the Freshmen our "broomsticks." After Mr. Lawton's play, God's Rebel, which starred some of our classmates, we faced Graduate Record examinations. Then the Athletic Association Banquet at the Park Plaza Hotel brought a definite close to our athletic activities for the year. Candle-Light Night was our farewell to the Seniors. At graduation, thirty-six of us received our Associate of Arts diploma after which we said our good-byes, for many of our class were not returning to the Mount.

The pages of our book are becoming fewer. Remember when we came back to school as Juniors and found that our class had only eleven members? We did acquire two nurses which boosted our number to thirteen. That year we were honored with a Junior Sno-Queen. After the major production, The Imaginary Invalid, which starred several Juniors, the A.A. and Junior-Senior Banquets followed in quick succession. The Senior Prom, organized by the Junior class, was held at the Aleazar. Class Day and Graduation closed a successful school year.

Our memory book is nearing an end. Pages have flown by with amazing rapidity. We are Seniors! The leaders of the school! It is hard to believe. Our Medical Technology students are at Mercy Hospital completing their training. Our future teachers have already had practice teaching in the public school system. Remember how blue we felt when it was announced that the Seniors had been scen for the last time as Mount Thespians after The Importance of Being Earnest? The Sno-Ball was held in the gym and again a member of our class was ehosen Queen. And now, what remains-Graduate Record examinations and Comprehensives this spring—then the prom, Senior retreat, class day and finally Graduation. Our memory book will soon close on our final days at Mount Saint Agnes College. The book will be finished—but thoughts and memories of our college days will linger on, year after year, and keep the Mount always close to our hearts.

Georgia Readdy Vice President

Patricia Maguire Secretary-Treasurer

Sister Mary Carlotta, R.S.M. Moderator

LYNN AMERSBACH
General Secretarial Course

Lynn impresses everyone with her striking personality and attractiveness. She has been an ardent cheer leader for the Mount teams, Librarian of the Glee Club, and Secretary of the Secretarial Club. Successful management of these offices has proven her responsibility. Her career as a stenographer will be interesting and rewarding.

HENRIETTA AGNES BREARTON

Medical Technology

As a Sophomore resident student, "Aggie" has beeome well acquainted with all phases of college life. I.R.C., Scienee Club, and the A.A. have held her extracurricular interest, while the hockey squad and J.V. basketball team have consumed her athletic energy. Medical technology will further develop her traits of dependability and punctiliousness.

NANCY BARNARD

Nursing

Efficient, amiable, and reserved, "Nanee" is earnest in her studies and eonseientious in all of her actions. However, her shy smile only serves to belie her liking for a few mischievous jokes. Neatness and winning ways will be her undoubtable assets in the nursing profession and her passport to success.

JEANNE CAHA

Chemistry

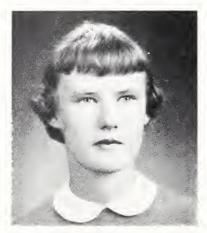

Quiet and eonseientious, Jeanne is a model student, whose sincerity and thoughtfulness have captured the respect of her elassmates. Her reserved manner and seientific attitude will prove invaluable assets to her in the future. The Scienee and Humanities Clubs have been fortunate in elaiming her as a loyal member.

EFROSENE CAPSANES

Medical Secretarial Course

"Effie" combines the agile mind of a lawyer with an effervescent personality. The Dramatics Club could not claim a more enthusiastic member than this charming daughter of Greece. Likewise the Science, Sccretarial and Humanities Clubs list her as a member. A successful future is assured for such a versatile medical secretary.

MARY EILEEN DOUTHAT

Medical Technology

Mary is an efficient student and an accomplished violinist. Her tentative plans include a summer trip to Europe as an armed forces' entertainer. Science and Glec Clubs have been her interests at the Mount. She is certain to attain success in either the field of music or that of medical technology.

PAULINE VERONICA CARSON

Nursing

Orderliness and efficiency characterize Pauline, the Vice-President of the Glee Club. She is known for her co-operativeness and constructive ideas on any subject. Along with numerous club activities, she is also a swimming and basketball enthusiast. Her unusual interest in people adds to her qualifications for nursing.

NADINE CAROLYN DUNNIGAN

Medical Technology

Known to the girls as "Dean," this attractive collegian is graceful and charming. She models and represents the Mount on the College Advisory Board of Fashion at a Baltimore department store. Her extracurricular activities include membership in the Science Club and A.A. A major in medical technology, she may also find success as a model.

NIJOLE DUMBRYS

Medical Technology

Nijole's prime ambition is to become a medical technologist. From her native Lithuania she has brought a conscientious and purposive manner which has endeared her to all. She is well-known for her ready smile and helping hand. The Science and Glee Clubs have been her extracurricular interests.

History

Far from her home in Puerto Rico, Bettina brings a touch of Spanish gaiety and vivacity to the Mount. Her sparkling dark eyes seem to become even more expressive when she speaks of her homeland or the humorous experiences she has had in the United States. Numerous clubs have claimed her attention at the Mount.

VIRGINIA MARY FOLEY

History

"Geege," a history major, is our vivacious classmate from Watertown, N. D. Her most notable achievement has been the ordered execution of her duties as President of the Liturgy Club and Chairman of the N.F.C.C.S. Liturgy Commission. She has also participated actively in athletics and has been Secretary-Treasurer of the Athletic Association.

JEAN PATRICIA GARTNER

General Secretarial Course

Diminutive in stature, Jean possesses a vitality and friendliness manifested in her winning smile. A future secretary, she will be well-versed in financial matters by virtue of her office as Treasurer of the Student Government and Business Manager of the '52 Mercedian. She will be most welcome in any office.

CLARE GERGEL
Nursing

Attractive and friendly, Clare is noted for her exquisite and individual taste in clothes. Her warm eyes and provocative smile are additional assets to her wardrobe. Liturgy and Humanities Clubs have listed her as a Sophomore member. Her charming personality will be psychological medicine to her future patients.

FRANCES MARLENE GRIFFORD

Medical Technology

"Framie," a combination of vivacity and sparkling wit, is an admirable student. Interested in science, she hopes to acquire her M.T. upon graduation from the Mount. Besides co-operating in numerous club activities, she has delighted all with her musical abilities and artistic talent. Her perpetual pleasantness eagerly invites the friendship of others.

PATRICIA MALONE HANNA Medical Technology

Pat, easily recognized by her shining eyes and friendly smile, was the first Vice President of the Class of '54. An accomplished swimmer, she has been an active member of the A.A. While working toward her M.T. she has also become interested in the Science, Humanities and Glee Clubs.

EMMA PAULINE KEULEGAN

History

From nearby Washington, D. C. comes Emma, a co-operative classmate and an eager history student. She will no doubt teach history where it is made, in the nation's capital. An active member of the I.R.C. at the Mount, she has also participated in the Athletic Association.

MARY ANGELA KOHLHEPP

Medical Technology

As eapable President of the Class of 1954, "Doc" has for two years been its sineere and inspiring leader. Her versatile personality has drawn her into various club activities, including participation in varsity hockey and basketball. She has made an indelible impression on all who have known her.

MARY ELIZABETH MAGROGAN

Medical Technology

An appointment book is a definite necessity for this attractive strawberry blonde. Mary is one of the busiest Mount Collegians, being a member of the Sodality and Seienee Clubs, and associate editor of the Mount Reflector. A spontaneous wit disguises her natural tendency toward serious thinking, while her beguiling eyes reveal the charm of a true Irish colleen.

ROSE MARY CARMEN MACH

Nursing

Noted for her spontaneous blush, "Ro" warms all of our days with her sunny smile. She has been persevering in scholastic endeavors and co-operative in activities of the Sodality and Science Club, and of the '52 Mercedian. Her efficient, conscientious manner will assure her success in the Nursing profession.

MARY PATRICIA MAGUIRE

Medical Technology

Pat has been the efficient Sophomore elass Secretary for two years and our child of sport. Her seemingly limitless energy is a marvel to all. Besides active athletic participation, she has also availed herself of the advantages of Glee Club and Sodality membership. Graduation will be another rung in her ladder to success.

MARY PATRICIA MANNING

History

Possessing unusual dramatic talent, Pat is the contribution of the Class of '54 to the Mount Thespians. Vivacious and charming, she is a history enthusiast and an aetive member of the International Relations Club. As Vice President of the Dramatic Club, she has been helpful and eo-operative in promoting the club's aetivities.

MARY ELIZABETH MUMAW

Nursing

Betsy is easily recognized by her auburn hair and even temperament. Known for her perseverance and conscientiousness, she has proven her capability as editor-in-chief of the '52 Mercedian. Interested in Science Club activities, she has also participated in the Humanities Club. Dependability and charm are additional assets of this future nurse.

ANN MARIE MILLER
General Secretarial Course

Petite and charming, Ann is an interesting eonversationalist. She has been an enthusiastic supporter of both the Sceretarial and Humanities Clubs. As a member of the A.A., she has led hearty eheers for the "Maroon and Blue." This efficient, attractive secretary will be an asset to any office.

PATRICIA ANNE MURTAGH

History

Pat, resident representative to the Student Council, is a History major and an aspirant to the teaching profession. This curly-haired miss has shown dependability in her executive duties and unusual co-operativeness in numerous club activities. Her vivacity made her quite apt as a cheerleader for the Mount's hockey and basketball teams.

ANNE ELIZABETH O'SHEA

Nursing

Always wearing her Irish smile, Anne impresses everyone with her deep sincerity. Original witticisms, however, often belie her usual quiet manner. Sodality, Science, and Glee Clubs have claimed her attention at the Mount. This future "Florence Nightingale" has unusually fine character qualifications for her profession.

MARY ANITA RIDGELY

Nursing

Dimpled and diminutive, Mary Anita draws many friends with her amicable manner and soft voice. This future nurse will carry an ample measure of dependability and thoughtfulness into her chosen profession. Science, Humanities, and Glee Clubs, together with scholastic and social endeavors, have arrested her attention at the Mount.

GEORGIA MICHAELYN READDY

Spanish

Georgia, an accomplished linguist, is a Spanish major with a teaching career as her goal. At the Mount she has efficiently executed the offices of Vice President of the Sophomore class and corresponding secretary of the A.A. Along with multiple club activities she has been an enthusiastic participant in hockey, basketball, and softball.

DOROTHY SKIBINSKI

Medical Technology

Responsible and co-operative, Dot has been a spirited Mount collegian. Her clever and unusual decorating ideas have added to the success of numerous social activities on the campus. A member of the A.A., she is a skilled aquatic enthusiast. Science and Glee Clubs have claimed the extra-curricular interest of this future medical technologist.

BARBARA NOEL SMITH
History

"Bobbie," a friendly blonde, is gifted with a lively sense of humor. As a history major, she is interested in United States Government and the International Relations Club. The Humanities and Dramatic Clubs have also claimed her interests. Her full social life makes an appointment book a definite necessity.

MARY LEE SPOTTS

Medical Technology

Pleasant, smiling Mary Lee is another aspirant to the profession of medical technology. Her versatile talents make her at home on the tennis court and archery range as well as in the surroundings of the Humanities Club. She has given generous amounts of time and effort to the Glec Club and Yearbook.

 $\begin{array}{c} \text{MARGARET SPRIGGS} \\ & \textit{English} \end{array}$

Boundless energy and a ready laugh typify Margaret's appealing personality. Her unique expressions, which should prove both enjoyable and educational to her future English students, are a delight to all. Humanities, Dramatics, and Glee Clubs have augmented her achievements, while, in return, they have been the recipients of her willing helpfulness.

MARGARET EILEEN STEINKAMP

Medical Secretarial Course

A friendly smile and twinkling eyes are the essence of Peggy's charm. As capable President of the Secretarial Club, she worked with unequaled initiative to promote the club's activities. Her journalistic ability has been enjoyed by the readers of the Mount Reflector. A prosperous secretarial career is certain for this stenographic enthusiast.

PATRICIA ANN WALSH

History

A diminutive history major, "Trieia" is known for her athletic ability, having been chosen the "Outstanding Mount Athlete" in her freshman year. Her liveliness and spirit spark not only the athletic teams but also the entire student body. As Viee President of the A.A. and a member of the I.R.C., Pat is one of the busiest collegians.

ELIZABETH FRANCES WARD

Medical Technology

Better known around the campus as "Betts," our young psychologist aspires to the field of medical technology. Much of her energy is directed to the A.A., where she is an enthusiastic tennis player. The Press Club and Yearbook staff have profited by her talents. A friendly smile and genial manner are her passports to success.

MARY GENE ZIERS

Education

As the editor of the Mount Reflector, "Geezee" is eonstantly occupied with her journalistic duties. Genial and spirited, she has participated in the Humanities and Glee Clubs while working toward her goal, a eareer in teaching. Her agile mind never ceases to produce the appropriate remark for every occasion. Success is her second nature.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is a most respected body of students on the campus. Composed of school leaders, it has successfully discharged its duties in a most efficient manner. As a legislative body, its rules have been readily adaptable to changing circumstances. When necessary it has proved itself a most wise and just governing body.

Incorporated in the General Council is the Resident Council which has maintained the respect of the resident students throughout the year.

Realizing that without an understanding administrative board and faculty, Student Government could not function, the Student Council wishes to express its gratitude to the Administration and faculty.

N.F.C.C.S.

The National Federation of Catholic College Students is the American Branch of the Pax Romana, the Pope's international student movement against the anti-Christian forces in the world. Founded in 1937, N.F.C.C.S. now embraces over two hundred colleges in twenty-one regions in the country. Its purpose is to formulate policy, suggest programs and initiate action contributing to the defense of Catholic principles and the advancement of the Catholic apostolate through student effort. To this end the federation works largely through commissions chartered nationally and regionally.

The Mount holds, in the Baltimore-Washington region, the charters for both Liturgy and Student Government Commissions.

THE SODALITY OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

During the 1951-'52 school year, the Sodality of Our Lady sponsored spiritual and corporal works in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Under its auspices, the girls participated in the daily recitation of the Rosary in the Students' Chapel. At Christmas, tableaux, depicting the Nativity of Our Lord, were presented by Sodality members.

Dear to the heart of each sodalist was the visit to the Little Sisters of the Poor where an entertainment of Irish songs was presented to the old people. The annual Communion breakfast concluded very appropriately the Sodality activities of the year.

LITURGY CLUB

Mount Saint Agnes College campus has been the seat of the Liturgy Commission of the N.F.C.C.S. for several years. The Liturgy Club, in striving to uphold the traditions of the commission, has been an outstandingly active campus organization. Its theme for the 1951-52 school year, "To learn, to live, and to spread Christo-eentric worship as opposed to ego-eentric worship," was its ineentive in all activities. Each Thursday morning the elub sponsored Dialogue Mass. The monthly liturgieal bulletin, "Cross-Beams," was edited and published regularly. On Liturgy Day, December 9, 1951, the elub was the hostess at a liturgieal conference for guests from nearby Catholic colleges.

Science Club Officers

SCIENCE CLUB

The purposes of the Seicnec Club are to present scientific information in the light of Catholic thought, to eneourage leadership, and to develop the seigntific attitude. Members of the elub are students concentrating in the sciences, aspiring medical technologists and pre-nursing students. This year, Dr. Frank P. Nicholson, an opthalmologist, spoke on diseases of the eye. A program on glass was presented by undergraduate students, and later alumnae members disclosed seientific information from their experience. At the final meeting of the club, surveys of problems and reports of laboratory techniques brought to the undergraduates a glimmer of the field awaiting them in scientifie work.

Humanities Club Officers

HUMANITIES CLUB

The purpose of the Humanities Club is to enrich the training of the Liberal Arts students, and lead other students to a better understanding of the Humanities and their related Arts. Programs of the elub have included lectures on the lyric poetry of Lope de Vega, the painting of Fra Angelico, and Architecture in its artistic and functional aspects. Guided tours to Walters' Art Gallery and the Baltimore Museum of Art proved valuable to club members.

Spheres is the literary magazine published by students in the Humanities Department. The eurrent issue presents a symposium on the work of St. Thomas More and an interesting treatment of the Holbein portrait.

EDUCATION CLUB

The initial objective of the Education Club is to give its members, prospective teachers, an opportunity to gain authentie information about the field of education. Many informal discussions are promoted among the few, but enthusiastie members of the elub. At meetings throughout the year, visiting lecturers presented interesting views of the teaching profession, thereby stimulating intellectual euriosity and acquainting the members with various opinions on and experiences in teaching. Among the club's speakers this year have been two members of the Baltimore Board of Edueation, the principal of a prominent Baltimore High Sehool and the supervisor of practice teaching in Baltimore.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club is a campus organization which is an active member of the National Federation of Catholic College Students as well as of the American Association of International Relations Clubs sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Informative discussions on the Far East, Near and Middle East, and Europe have been held throughout the year. Members of the club have profited well by attendance at the regional congress of the National Federation of Catholic College Students in Washington and the three-day meeting of the American Association of International Relations Clubs at Johns Hopkins University.

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

Formed during the 1951-52 school year, the Philosophy Club is eomposed of those students interested in philosophy beyond the scope of the curriculum. Activities for the members this year included the reading of selected books such as Revolt of the Masses by Ortega y Gasset and Reconstruction in Philosophy by Dewey. Later these works were discussed at club meetings. The club was heartily received and encouraged by its members and should enjoy a successful future as part of the co-eurricular activities at the Mount.

PRESS CLUB

The Mount Reflector Staff of 1951-'52 has edited a newspaper of which we can all be proud. In its four issues, M.S.A. spotlight events, ordinary and extraordinary, have been brought into focus. Besides editorials of worth, previews of coming events and current news, the paper has featured special departments popular with the student body—such as, Letters to the Editor, Sports Reviews, and Mount Mirth. By dint of hard and persistent labor, this year's staff has produced a publication which fittingly designates the members of the Press Club as a serious and truly journalistic group.

Upper right; First row, left to right: P. Walsh, J. Isaf, M. G. Ziers, Co-editor; M. E. Magrogan, Co-editor; M. E. Journey, E. Ward. Second row: M. Cook, M. Steinkamp, E. Buekner, R. Pearson, A. McNamara, M. Spriggs.

SECRETARIAL CLUB

The "Apostolate of Business" tries to acquaint its members with secretarial positions and responsibilities. This fall, Mr. William Heaviside, personnel director of the Mathieson Chemical Company, spoke to the club and sponsored a trip to the chemical plant. Later, the girls visited the Baltimore Federal Savings and Loan Association. On these trips club members obtained an insight into secretarial possibilities in these organizations. Mr. C. H. Carson, agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and Miss Mary Elaine Spranklin, medical secretary, gave the benefit of their specialized secretarial experiences at other club meetings.

"Malaguena"—N. Land accompanied by Mount Saint Mary's Glee Club.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club has this year participated in several public performances. On March 9th, the Mount Saint Mary's and Mount Saint Agnes Glee Clubs were heard by a large and enthusiastic audience. The girls in the Mount Madrigal Group deserve a special word of commendation. The concert on May 1st, in which the Mount Glee Club co-operated with the choral groups of four other colleges, and gave an evening of song at Emmitsburg, was most successful. The College is proud too, to have had its songsters appear on Station WMAR-TV. Congratulations are due the Glee Club for its splendid accomplishments.

Dramatics Club Officers

Left to right: D. Stolze, Secretary;
A. McNamara, President; C. Chambers, Treasurer.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Outstanding on the Dramatic Club's calendar this year are two dates: one, the oceasion of three one-act plays presented by the underclassmen, and the other, that of the major production, Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," which starred Juniors and Seniors. Members of the Dramatic Club are students interested in staging, writing and directing plays. Radio and television are fields not unknown to the Mount Thespians for opportunity has been given to its members to appear before the public through both of these media. Television managers and eelebrities have on occasion addressed the club members.

"THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST"

MERCEDIAN, 1952

With the advent of the "MERCEDIAN, 1952" comes the realization of a long-standing dream of the student body. In order to bring this dream to fruition, much patience and diligence were needed to overcome obstacles and to meet growing responsibilities. If it were not for the far-seeing eyes and careful planning of our capable editor and staff, this book would still be a dream. Without the firm support of the student body, success could never have been attained. May this yearbook, our token of gratitude to you, be a means of spreading far and wide our love for our Alma Mater.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Athletic Association, organized to promote participation in sports and encourage good sportsmanship, has been successful in its intercollegiate hockey and basketball games. Interest in tennis has been revived with the advent of a tennis court fund and tennis enthusiasts have been busy perfecting their strokes. Inter-class basketball games, the ping pong and archery tournaments complete the athletic year.

Highlighting the season is the Athletic Association banquet at which event awards are presented to individuals and the Hunt Cup is presented to the class which has amassed the greatest number of points and has shown outstanding loyalty, co-operation, and interest in athletics.
